Vatican II (1962-1965) and Its Meaning for Global History

John T. McGreevy

*Charles and Jill Fischer Provost and Francis A. McAnaney Professor of History
University of Notre Dame*

Author of Catholicism: A Global History from the French Revolution to Pope Francis (W. W. Norton, 2022)

The Second Vatican Council is widely understood as one of the key events of the twentieth century. But its integration into the global history of the era has been at best partial. The lecture will probe the meaning of the council in places as diverse as Chile, Central Europe, and South Korea, and suggest how the council not only reshaped the trajectory of Catholicism, the world's most multilingual and multicultural institution, but global history more generally.
